ASHTABULA TOWNSHIP – Two people were shot Tuesday afternoon following a dispute on social media.

Deputies were called to the 2700 block of Russell Road in Saybrook Township shortly before 2 p.m. after receiving report of the shooting.

The preliminary investigation determined two male subjects were engaged in a dispute on Facebook. One of the male subjects drove to the Russell Road residence of the other male subject and fired two rounds toward the residence, striking a female in the leg. The house was also struck. The male resident then fired six rounds at the suspect vehicle, a Chevy Equinox, striking it at least five times as well as striking a male occupant.

Both gunshot victims were transported to The Ashtabula County Medical Center by Saybrook Township Fire Department. They are both expected to recover.
